About The Event:

The Rotaract Club of Bombay Mahakali Heights organized a beach cleanup at Aksa Beach, marking International Coastal Cleanup Day. The event, in collaboration with the Rotaract Club of SPCE, aimed to promote environmental awareness and contribute to the cleanliness of the coastal area. 5 Rotaractors from RCSPCE participated in the cleanup drive. Participants actively engaged in collecting and disposing of litter, fostering a sense of community responsibility for environmental preservation.

Detailed overview of the event :

The Rotaractors from RCSPCE arrived at Aksa Beach promptly at 7 am, carrying hand gloves and trash bags to embark on a beach cleaning initiative. Their shared passion for environmental conservation and community impact spurred them on to work diligently, picking up every piece of litter they could find.

As they cleaned up, they savored the beautiful sunrise and the sound of the waves gently crashing against the shore. The Rotaractors had discussions with the other volunteers on the endangered marine life due to waste dumped in the water bodies. They exchanged meaningful suggestions as well as future initiatives. Their enthusiastic banter and laughter filled the air, adding to the positive energy of the moment.

Their hard work paid off as they were able to collect a significant quantity of waste that would have otherwise impacted the environment negatively. The beautiful beach was left spotless, and the group felt an immense sense of pride in accomplishing their objective.

In the end refreshments were provided by RCMBH to all the volunteers present for the clean up. The event concluded exactly at 10 am.

Closing Remarks:

In the closing remarks, RCMBH president Mrs. Pinky Rajgarhiya expressed her gratitude to all the participants, volunteers, and sponsors who made the event possible. She highlighted the importance of conservation of well-being of the beaches as well as sea life. Furthermore, Mrs. Rajgarhiya emphasized the need for continued efforts towards a sustainable future for our oceans. She encouraged everyone to take small steps towards reducing their plastic consumption and to participate in beach cleanups. She also announced that the RCMBH team along with RCSPCE will be working closely with local authorities to promote more eco-friendly practices and policies in the area.

In conclusion, the event was a great success in raising awareness about the importance of preserving our beaches and marine life. The Rotaract Club of SPCE looks forward to continuing their efforts and making a positive impact on the environment.
